

INDIAN FIGHTER.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR WILLIAM KRIDER HERE TO-DAY.

Veteran of Civil War, and War Correspondent In Philippines—Died In New Orleans.

The body of William Krider, a Union veteran of the Civil War, and an Indian fighter, who died at New Orleans last Wednesday, arrived in Louisville last night, and was taken to Maas' undertaking establishment. The funeral services will be held this afternoon at the chapel there followed by interment in Eastern cemetery.

Mr. Krider was sixty-six years of age, and was born and reared in Louisville. At the outbreak of the Civil War he immediately enlisted in the Federal army, and served throughout the struggle. He entered as a private, but before the end of the war he was promoted to the position of Quartermaster Sergeant. At the close of the war Mr. Krider did not give up his career as a soldier, but went West and became an Indian fighter. When the Indian disturbances were subdued Mr. Krider returned to Louisville and lived here until the outbreak of the Spanish-American War, when he went to the Philippine Islands in the position of war correspondent for a syndicate.

After a stay of four years in the Philippines Mr. Krider removed to New Orleans, where he held a Government position. He lived there until his death. Besides his wife, who was Miss Maggie Harrington, of Kansas City, before her marriage, Mr. Krider is survived by six children. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Louisa K. Neff and Mrs. John B. Stiltz, and four brothers, Edward Krider, John Krider, George Krider and Louis Krider, all of whom are of Louisville.
